

Social Skills Program

You Can Do It! is the social and emotional learning program used at Burrowes State School. The purpose of the program is to support communities, schools and homes to optimise the social, emotional and academic development of students.

This program helps students to develop confidence, persistence, getting along skills and emotional resilience. These are the keys to unlocking student potential and allowing them to experience success and happiness.